Who knew that folksy ex-Veep Joe Biden was sitting on a dirty made-for-TV drama?

The news recently splashed across the New York tabloids that Hunter Biden, the surviving son of the ex-VP, is having an affair with Hallie Biden, the widow of Beau Biden, who died last year of brain cancer. She appropriately appears in all the family funeral pictures mourning alongside other family families.

Two months later, Hunter's now estranged wife, Kathleen, was out. And now, Hallie is in.

As reported by NYP's Page Six, the divorce filings between Hunter and his estranged wife, Kathleen reveal so much more.

Namely, the family's got debt because of bad boy Hunter Biden's questionable spending habits that allegedly involve drugs, hookers, strip clubs, incredible debt and an $80,000 bauble that has disappeared.
