

Covert lesbian and technical incompetent Hillary Clinton to headline LESBIANS WHO TECH

By Wendy Rocket

She can't drive a car or use a FAX or understand how email works. Her sex life with women from the Berkeley campus to the corridors of Washington have become notorious rumors. From Tom Steyer's Margie Sullivan to her own Huma Abedin to Oprah..the hot girl-on-girl sex stories and suppositions never cease.

Does Hillary now have to show-off her lickity split to a whole herd of tech-dykes in order to hunt up some new meat?

This Is an Actual Thing: Hillary Clinton to Appear at 'Lesbians Who Tech' Convention

Guess who's back?

Hillary Clinton is going to appear at the Lesbians Who Tech convention in New York City this coming week.

This is the first ever Lesbians Who Tech + Allies Leadership Summit for mid-level and executive non-binary, LGBTQ women and their allies.

The high quality video that was posted three weeks ago had 119 views on Saturday morning when this post was published.

There is obviously not that strong of demand for this collective.

This is an actual group with actual members.

Wouldn't you just love to have a social justice warrior lesbian on your IT staff to lecture your office regularly on non-binary issues?

HILLARY AT SUMMIT. THIS IS NOT A DRILL. Grab your best pantsuit! 🔥❤️
