

Government critics found dead in Sweden.
Everyone of them has had a heart attack.
Everyone of them is less than 35. (politics)

One of them was a journalist who was about to release an in depth report about a journalist and his connection with ANTIFA and the Bilderberg group. He was found dead in his apartment the day before he was to release the report. https://www.youtube.com/watch?

Nowadays they don't bother with that.

They just get a job as a barista at your coffee joint, play the long con (turnover at those places is pretty high, so not so long really), and then poison you with a digitalis derivative .
Way easier.

makes sense, the dart gun shows documented precedence. They probably have a "starbucks employee" who moves from store to store. What is digitalis derivative?

Can anybody give an actual source? I'm not sure I can believe someone talking in a car

I mean, the guy owns a car, Anderson Cooper owns a car, Don Lemon owns a car. Obviously owning a car makes you a high grade journo.

Flawless logic. You must work as a journalist.

Do we know the were all under 35? In the past Sweden had massive problems at getting age right.

For someone that young to die of a heart attack they must be huge, like a thousand pounds huge, or someone got hold of a Death Note.

If they were all as fat or fatter than this guy, then I'm not surprised.

The kikes that are decimating Sweden are using it as some sort of staging ground for the rest of Europe. What they don't realize though, in their usual short-sighted greed, is that they're creating the perfect example of what happens when you let Soros NGOs into your country, for the rest of the world to see.

You can say the same (staging ground) of germany, where merkel 'invited' more than a million "refugees".
