Judicial Watch Could Sue FBI to Have Courts Order FBI/DOJ to Follow The Law On Clinton Arrest

Washington DC – The law is the law. If the law is not followed by the people entrusted with upholding it then the whole system breaks down within minutes.

This is the premise for a possible lawsuit by a public accountability group.

The political art of cover-ups, stonewalling, "missing hard drives" and other accountability obfuscation tactics are now well known to the public thanks to the internet. In the end, though, the law must be followed.

A new tactic is underway to force law enforcement agents to stop protecting corrupt bosses and to bring Lady Justice to rapid deployment.
