

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man she met on millionaire dating site and broke into his home after a single date wants her case to go to trial because she thinks jury will clear her and order her to MARRY alleged victim

- Jacqueline Ades allegedly stalked the man for 10 months after they met on a dating site designed for millionaires
- Sent texts like 'I'd make sushi outta ur kidneys n chopsticks outta ur hand bones'
- She broke into his home in April 2018 while he was out of the country and police found her taking a bath; a butcher knife was in the front seat of her car outside
- Ades has been behind bars since May 2018, was found incompetent to stand trial
- She still believes a jury would find her innocent and want her to marry the man

By Dailymail.com Reporter

Published: 09:43 EDT, 19 April 2019 | Updated: 13:12 EDT, 19 April 2019

-
-
-
-
-
- e-mail
-

4.8k shares

1k

View comments

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

Jacqueline Ades allegedly sent 159,000 text messages to a man and broke into his home after they went on a single date

An Arizona woman who allegedly sent 159,000 text messages to a man and broke into his home after they went on a single date believes a jury will find her innocent.

Jacqueline Ades was found mentally incompetent to stand trial in March. But she wants a jury to hear her case, believing they will even order her to marry the man.

'They're going to say, "You're not guilty and on top of it we, like, demand that you two get married,"' Ades told The Arizona Republic in a new jailhouse interview.

Ades has been behind bars at the Maricopa County Estrella Jail since May 2018 after she allegedly stalked and harassed the man for 10 months.

She sent him threatening text messages including one that read: 'I'd make sushi outta ur kidneys n chopsticks outta ur hand bones (sic)'.

Another one read: 'Oh what would I do w ur blood! Id wanna bathe in it'.

Ades and the man, who has only been identified as the CEO of a company that sells skincare and spa products, met on a dating site.

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

© Police Handout

+7

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

•

Ades has been behind bars at Maricopa County Estrella Jail since May 2018 after she allegedly stalked and harassed the man for 10 months and sent him threatening texts (pictured)

+7

•

Ades was found mentally incompetent to stand trial in March. But she wants a jury to hear her case, believing they will even order her to marry the man

She claimed that the pair met on Luxy, an online dating service that calls itself the 'best luxury millionaire matchmaker dating app'.

Luxy can only be accessed by those who earn more than $200,000 or if they are voted in by other members based on their attractiveness

Authorities said Ades and the man chatted on the site for a few days and then went on one date.

Although the man told Ades he did not want to see her again, she allegedly began texting him incessantly - sometimes up to 500 times a day. In July 2017,

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

she parked outside of his house.

In April 2018, the man - who was out of the country - called police and said surveillance video showed that Ades was inside his home.

Officers found Ades taking a bath in his home. When officers asked why she was there, she began referring to scientific equations.

'I guess that I made up a whole scenario in my head where I live here, so I came here and pretended that's what was happening,' she told them.

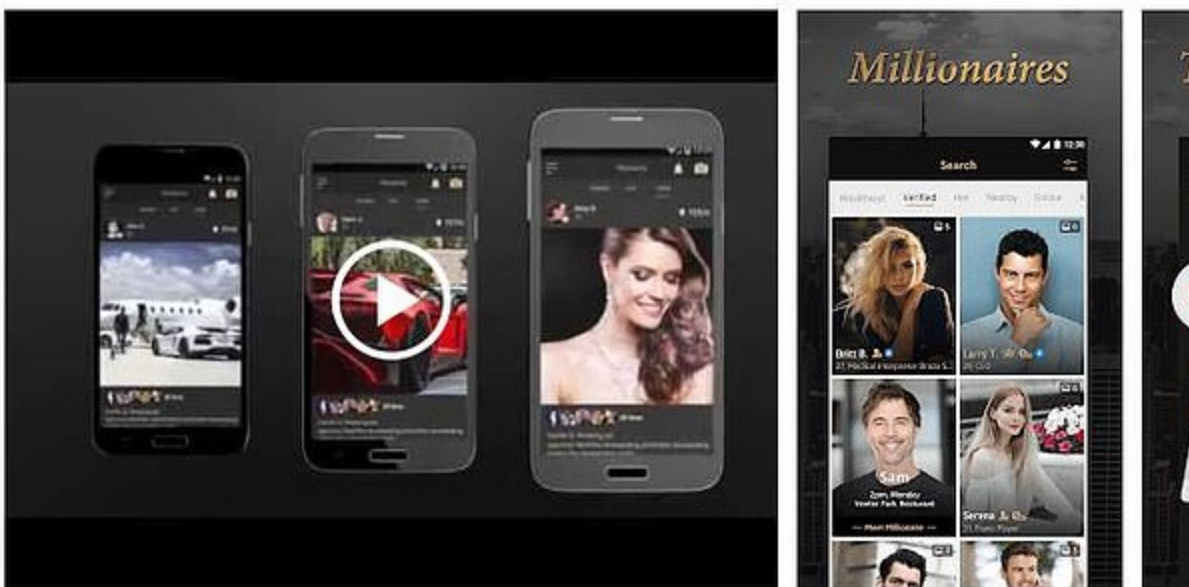

+7

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

•

Ades claimed that the pair met on Luxy, an online dating service that calls itself the 'best luxury millionaire matchmaker dating app'

+7

•

Luxy can only be accessed by those who earn more than $200,000 or if they are voted in by other members based on their attractiveness

Officers also found a large butcher knife in her car at the time.

After she failed to appear to multiple court hearings, Ades was arrested the following month.

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

On the way to prison, she told officers: 'He said to me, "Go away" for the last 16 months. And I couldn't, because the more I loved him, the more I learned [about] the secrets of the universe.'

Ades also told the Republic that she had been abducted by Walt Disney, who she said is a member of the Illuminati with his own spaceship.

'Does that sound crazy? It sounds like I'm crazy,' she said. 'My mom says, "They're going to put you back in Rule 11 court if you go around telling people." But this is a true story - I'm not lying.'

Matthew Leathers, Ades' attorney, requested a Rule 11 hearing in January after she turned down a plea deal.

+7

•

Ades recently claimed she had been abducted by Walt Disney, who she said is a member of the Illuminati with his own spaceship

The deal would have allowed Ades to be released from prison with time served. She would have been on probation for 10 years and forbidden from contacting the man.

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

But Ades, who has pleaded not guilty to charges of stalking and criminal trespassing, refused the deal, claiming she thought that it wasn't real and that the man was 'testing her resolve'.

Leathers said two of three mental health professionals who met with Ades found her mentally incompetent to stand trial but restorable. One ruled that she was mentally competent.

An appointed psychologist is now meeting with Ades in prison in an attempt to restore her to competency. They must ensure she understands the charges against her and can assist in her own defense.

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

+7

•

In April 2018, the man - who was out of the country - called police and said surveillance video showed that Ades was inside his home. Officers found Ades taking a bath in his home

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

+7

•

Ades has continued to claim that her threatening text messages to the man were just jokes

The psychologist has 21 months to either restore Ades to competency - allowing her case to go back to trial - or deem her not restorable.

Ades' case will be dismissed without prejudice if she is found not to be restorable. She could then be committed to a mental institution, appointed a legal guardian, or could be released.

'Stalker' who sent 159,000 messages in 10 months to a man

'I just think it's ridiculous, I can't believe that it turned into this,' Ades said. 'I can't believe that I'm actually in jail over some text messages.'

Ades has continued to claim that her threatening text messages were just jokes.

RELATED ARTICLES

- Previous
- 1
- Next

- Taylor Swift's serial stalker Roger Alvarado, 23, is... 'It was like a horror film': Olympic gymnast Shawn Johnson,...

Share this article

Share

'I said, "If I had a perverted imagination, what would I think?" she added. 'And then I wrote all these weird things. Just, like, I was literally playing with my imagination and it turned out that that scared him.'

While Ades believes there is no way the jury would find her guilty, she said she would be fine with staying in prison if they do.

She also claimed that she wouldn't contact the man if she was released from prison, because she believes he would contact her himself.

Ades' next hearing is scheduled for May 21.

Read more:

- www.azcentral.co...