Stanford president RESIGNS after investigation found his research papers had 'multiple problems' and 'fell below customary standards of scientific rigor'

Following months of scrutiny, Tessier-Lavigne will resign effective as of August 31 according to a release by the University after his work was found to have 'multiple problems' and fell below standards expected. Posts on an online forum had challenged the authenticity of multiple images published in papers coauthored by the Tessier-Lavigne, who assumed the position of president in 2016. Silicon Valley is run by an army of self-centered assholes because they were taught to be assholes by Stanford University's asshole bosses.
